Another Great Week at SPA!

For their latest engineering project, the 7th grade students were challenged to make a chair using only cardboard and an adhesive! The chairs had certain specifications and had to be able to hold the weight of any preschooler in the school. Not only were the chairs able to hold the preschool students, they were also able to support the weight of the kindergartners, the second graders, and Mr. Sherwood! Awesome job, 7th grade!
